

Edges and Ales

BIRCHEN EDGE - CHATSWORTH - DOBB EDGE

A circular 7 mile walk combining superb walking along two edges with a visit to Chatsworth.

Parking: If travelling by car there are three main places to start this walk:

- Birchen Edge car park (by the Robin Hood Inn on the B6050, near junction with A619). Start at point A below.
- Chatsworth car park. Start at point B below
- Baslow village car park. Start at point C below

Refreshments on route

There is a pub (the Robin Hood Inn) at start point A. Baslow (start point B) has three pubs plus tearooms. There is bar and restaurant at Chatsworth (start point C) in the former stable block, plus light refreshments outside the house and inside the gardens.

Route

A On leaving the car park turn left onto the B6050. After about 100 metres and just past a house on the left turn left. Walk up the bank to go through a gate. Keep straight on up the wide steps. Follow the well-used path round to the left. Pass the golf course on the left. Ignore a path on your right and continue to follow the wall on your left. After about a $\frac{1}{3}$ mile from the road the path bears away from the wall and fence up towards the edge. Ignore another smaller path on the right. Follow the rocky path below Birchen Edge. Soon you will see Nelson's Monument up on your right.

Nelson's Monument is 1,000 ft above sea level. It was erected in 1810 only 5 years after the Battle of Trafalgar. Behind the monument are 3 large stones carved with the names of ships - Victory, Defiant and Royal Sovereign (seen from Dobb Edge).

Nearing the northern end of Birchen Edge the path veers left away from the edge and winds its way down through the heather and across the moorland. Cross the stile and turn left to cross the A621. Walk up the minor road for about 200 metres. At the top of the hill turn left through a small gate and immediately turn right onto a track by the 'Boundary of Open Country' sign.

Follow the track with the high wall on your right. This is the ancient 'CHESTERFIELD ROADE' as you will see on a stone pillar. Where the wall ends keep straight on to the Wellington Monument, noticing the Eagle Stone on your right. About $\frac{3}{4}$ mile from the minor road you will reach the Wellington Monument, built in 1866 to commemorate his visit to the Duke of Rutland. From the monument continue along the track for about 150 metres and at a T-junction of tracks turn left.

Follow the wide stony track downhill to go through a gate. Continue down the walled and hedged track for nearly $\frac{1}{2}$ mile to meet the surfaced road of Bar Road. Follow Bar Road down, passing two roads off left and right, for about 250 metres to the grass island at the junction of School Lane and Bar Road, then turn to the left. Walk down Eaton Hill into Nether End, Baslow. Cross the main A619. Turn left along the minor road to pass Goose Green Tea Rooms on your left.

B With Goose Green Tea Rooms on your left cross the bridge and turn right into the Chatsworth estate, following the track past the cottages and through the Cannon Kissing Gate.

Keep straight on following the path. When you reach White Lodge, in about 500 metres, turn left up the short tree-lined road. At the T-junction turn right to follow the estate road for about $\frac{1}{2}$ mile.

Chatsworth is known as the 'Palace of the Peak' and is one of Britain's best-loved stately homes. It is home to the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire and is a treasure trove of fine furniture, paintings, wood carvings and other artefacts. Both house and gardens are well worth a visit.

Chatsworth

C From the house walk up towards the stable block (which has good restaurants and shops in it), go to the left hand side of it and follow the track up over a cattle grid, passing Chatsworth Farmyard on your left. Follow the estate road as it bears right up through the wood signed 'Stand Wood Walks'. After about 100 metres opposite an old building and just before four coloured arrows on a low stone on the left-hand side of the road, turn left.

continued overleaf...

